

AMUSEMENT CENTRE PLAN WILL ENTAIL FOUR CIVIC BY-LAWS

C.P.R. Company Prepared to Start in Twelve Months If Citizens Vote Extension of Empress Hotel Privileges and Concessions for Stadium Site

The citizens of Victoria will be asked in the course of a few days to express their approval of by-laws affecting the Empress Hotel, and the proposed Amusement Centre on the Stadium site. Negotiations which have been in progress since February reached fruition this morning, when on behalf of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Basil Gardom, engineer in charge of construction for the hotel system, met Mayor Hayward, Alderman Todd, chairman of the committee, and City Solicitor Pringle.

THE PROPOSAL

The company offers to build, commencing at a date not later than December, 1924, a permanent building of ornamental design on the Stadium site, which it is proposed to be leased by the city for that purpose for a twenty-year period. The company undertakes to place in the building a salt water tank 150 feet by 40 feet, two dancing halls each larger than the present Empress Hotel ballroom, a gymnasium, a bowling alley, squash and racquets courts, restaurant and such other rooms as may be needed. The whole building is to be 240 feet in frontage and 94 feet in breadth.

The company undertakes to improve the grounds and manage and operate such building continuously during the life of the lease, and to replace the buildings in case of fire or similar damage.

The city on its part is asked to aid the company in securing fresh water, in obtaining a pumping station on the shore at Beacon Hill Park, to provide sewerage facilities, and aid the objects of the Centre in such ways as from time to time may occur.

FOUR BY-LAWS

The company asks the citizens to approve of four by-laws, which will have to be drawn after an agreement has been made between the city and the company, to give effect to the negotiations.

These by-laws are:

1. To continue the lease of the Empress Hotel, which will expire in December, 1924, for the life of the new lease, namely, in December, 1944.
2. To continue the water rate set under the by-law voted upon by the ratepayers for the Empress Hotel property for a period of twenty years from December, 1924.
3. To approve a lease from the city of the Stadium property for twenty years, with an exemption from taxation in that period.
4. To supply domestic water to the Amusement Centre, subject to such circumstances as may arise from time to time in the city waterworks.

TO PREPARE AGREEMENT

While making no comment on the matter yet, the city officials authorized the city solicitor to prepare an agreement on the lines of the lease, and submit it to the City Council on Monday. On the question of date of submission of the by-law, Mayor Hayward said after the interview that the committee hoped to make an announcement within forty-eight hours on this subject.

RAILROAD RATE CUTS IN U.S. MEAN $431,000,000 SAVING

Washington, Nov. 16.—Because of reductions in railroad rates inaugurated since 1921 the freight bill of the American public was $431,000,000 less during the first eight months of the present year than it would have been if rate levels had remained unchanged, according to statistics compiled by the Bureau of Railway Economics.

22,350 ANIMALS WERE SLAUGHTERED

Fight in Britain Against Foot and Mouth Disease

London, Nov. 16. (Canadian Press Cable)—Major H. Barnston, Conservative member for Eddisbury, replying to a question in the House last night on behalf of the Minister of Agriculture, said the total number of outbreaks of foot and mouth disease among the animals in the United Kingdom since the commencement of the present epidemic on August 27 last was 275. The animals slaughtered as a result of these outbreaks were 8,558 cattle, 7,998 sheep, 5,781 pigs and 12 goats.

Since October 31, however, 108 outbreaks of the disease had been declared. Major Barnston stated that a large portion of the more recent outbreaks, said the total number of outbreaks previously infected by the disease.

BERLIN PRINTERS' STRIKE SETTLED BY COMPROMISE

London, Nov. 16.—The Berlin printers' strike, which has been tying up the newspapers and the printing industry there generally, has been settled by a compromise, says a Central News message from Berlin to-day.

Ex-Directors of Home Bank Not Given Speedy Trial

Toronto, Nov. 16.—Judge Coatsworth this morning refused the application of the ten former Home Bank directors and officials for a speedy trial. The defendants are charged with conspiracy and with making false returns under the Bank Act in connection with the suspension of the bank in August. The application for a speedy trial in the county court was made last Friday, and after considerable argument a decision was reserved until to-day.

The next move by counsel for the defendants will be to apply to a judge at Osgoode Hall for a mandamus directing the county judge to hear the case.

COMPLETION OF P.G.E. IS URGED

B.C. Boards of Trade Say it Should Link With Prince George

Vancouver, Nov. 16.—Important matters were discussed and a number of decisions made at this morning's session of the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia here. Chief among the topics disposed of were two questions which were viewed as being rather controversial in character, the trans-provincial highway and the completing of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to Prince George.

It was decided not to recommend any route to the Government for the construction of the highway, and by unanimous vote the assembly went on record as favoring the completion of the railway. Other recommendations included the establishment of a chair of commerce at the University and the better marking for identification by the public of fruits displayed in shops.

HAD MAPS PREPARED

The highway discussion was expected to be the most bitter contest of the annual meeting. Delegates who advocated the Hope-Princeton route came armed with maps and pamphlets, while those who favored building the road along the Fraser Canyon were equally prepared to argue the merits of that proposal. Each camp submitted resolutions urging the route which it favored.

INFORMATION WELCOMED

This morning the resolutions committee reported a substitute motion, which was accepted by all and unanimously passed. It was presented by J. B. Thomson, president of the Vancouver Board of Trade, and seconded by Delegate Charles McHardy, of Nelson, and read as follows:

"Resolved that this convention express its regret at the delay of the completion of the highway in connecting the interior portions of the Province with the coast, but is gratified to learn from the announcement of the Minister of Public Works that construction of the highway will be commenced early in the spring, and further that the convention urge upon the Government the great necessity for an immediate completion of the road."

SELECTION OF ROUTE

In moving the adoption of the resolution, Mr. Thomson explained that it was the duty of the Government, based on the information at its disposal, to select the route. The secretary of the Associated Boards of Trade had been unable to obtain any information from the Government of a later date than 1922. Since that time surveys have been made and other data secured by the Government.

McGEER AUTHORIZED TO SPEED MONEY. PREMIER SAYS

Denies Charge Rate Advertising Was Done on Counsel's Own Responsibility

Charges in The Vancouver World to the effect that G. G. McGeer, K.C., Provincial Government counsel in the freight rates case, paid out money for advertising to The Vancouver Sun without authority, were flatly denied in a statement issued by Premier Oliver to-day.

"Mr. McGeer was authorized to spend money for publicity purposes to aid our freight rate case," the Premier declared. "The statement that he was unauthorized to spend money for these purposes is absolutely untrue. The details of this phase of our case were left with Mr. McGeer," the Premier added, referring to The World's charge that the freight advertising had been done entirely through The Vancouver Sun.

"Mr. McGeer was not instructed exactly how he should spend this money, certainly not by me, in any case."

"As a matter of fact, our publicity, I believe, got good results."

Mr. McGeer gave out a statement himself in Vancouver yesterday asserting that expenditures incurred for full page advertisements in Eastern newspapers in the rates case were authorized by Premier Oliver and the secured results.

DETAILS OF NEW LEVY ON GASOLINE TO BE ANNOUNCED SOON

A tax on gasoline will be brought into effect in British Columbia next year. This plan has virtually been decided upon by the Provincial Government after consultation with its supporters in the Legislature, it was learned at the Parliament Buildings to-day.

Details of the gasoline tax plan and its exact size have not been decided yet, it was made known. Three cents a gallon has been the figure most talked about, but this has not been fixed. Details of the levy, it is understood, will be announced in the budget speech of Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance.

Experts of the Finance Department have collected extensive figures to show exactly how much revenue the Government can expect to secure from a tax of a few cents on all gasoline used in the Province.

A tax on fuel—oil—imported into British Columbia to aid the coal mining industry also is under consideration now but no decision on this plan has been reached. Reports that a tax of one cent a gallon was to be imposed on imported fuel oil were denied by members of the Liberal caucus to-day.

IF TWO GIRLS FIND HUSBANDS THEY WILL NOT BE DEPORTED

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 16.—Wanted: Husbands. Unless Harry Bohr, eighteen, and Irmingar Schultz, twenty, get one apiece by Sunday they will have to return to Germany on the steamship Sesostris, now at this port. Both are good cooks, it is said.

The girls stowed away in the vessel in Hamburg. Ten days out, they were discovered by the immigration authorities, and now the order has gone forth that they must go back to Germany or get husbands.

PROHIBITIONISTS IN POLITICAL ARENA

Urged by Speakers in Vancouver to Take Action

B.C. Association Holding Its Annual Conventinon

Vancouver, Nov. 16.—Prohibitionists must enter the political arena, Federal, Provincial and municipal, if they are to attain their ideal of a "bone dry Canada."

This was the trend of the main addresses at the convention of the British Columbia Prohibition Association which opened its sessions here yesterday. Rev. T. Albert Moore, D.D., of Toronto, attacked the arguments advanced in behalf of Moderation and urged that a united effort be made to have a Federal act passed prohibiting the manufacture, importation and sale of liquor from coast to coast.

"Prohibition was better than Moderation ever could be," he held, declaring the present Government Liquor Act to be "damnable" in that it magnified bootlegging and caused the ruin of homes. Dr. Moore pleaded with the citizens of British Columbia to be the first to break away from Moderation "and lead the forces of Canada in the right direction."

GOAT IS IN LONELY ISOLATION SINCE HE ATE NITROGLYCERINE

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 16.—What to do with a goat that on Wednesday ate a pound of nitro-glycerine in gelatin form and munched two sticks of dynamite is perplexing authorities here. No one has been found willing to approach the animal, which was a mascot in his stable of prize harness horses, has suggested that the goat be chloroformed and detonated on a dump heap by rifle fire. Fine idea. He wants to know who will apply the anaesthetic.

MINNESOTA MAN IN LOVE WITH Girl Committed Murders

Kelley, Minn., Nov. 16.—A madman, slayer of four, is fleeing through the Northern woods to-day before a posse formed here which took up the search at dawn. Leonard Portano, thirty-three, yesterday killed Mr. and Mrs. John Sanders, sixty, of whose fifteen-year-old daughter Myrtle he was enamored. Oscar Timmy, thirty, a farmer and auditor of this village and a deputy sheriff, who sought to arrest him. The shootings occurred at different times throughout the day. Before fleeing the murderer went to a timber cutting place, he operated and left signs of the crimes, with a list of dead.

More than thirty men gathered here and formed a posse, and many more later joined in the hunt.

BERLIN ARRANGES For Subsidies For Occupied Area

Berlin, Nov. 16.—The German Cabinet last night decided to devote 100,000,000 of the new rentenmarks to continue payment of subsidies in the occupied territories, with special reference to the maintenance of the unemployment doles. The Rentenbank has placed a total of 900,000,000 of the new issue at the disposal of the Government.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE DRAW APART ON QUESTION OF HOW TO TREAT GERMAN REPUBLIC

Penalties Paris Threatens If Germany Does Not Alter Attitude Regarding Expulsion of Ex-Crown Prince and Allied Military Control in Republic Declared Unacceptable to British Government; French Deny They Plan to Occupy Hamburg

London, Nov. 16.—Indications are multiplying that France and Great Britain are approaching the parting of the ways on the question of how to deal with Germany.

France's threatened penalties against Germany if Berlin does not recede from its position on the extradition of the former Crown Prince and the re-establishment of full Allied military control in Germany are declared in Government quarters here to be wholly unacceptable to the British Government.

These penalties are understood to be:

First—The seizure of more railroads east of the occupied area, which would probably include the eventual occupation of Frankfurt by the French.

Second—Consolidation and extension of the Franco-Belgian military position in the Ruhr.

Third—The occupation of Hamburg and Bremen.

Paris dispatches to-day said high officials of the French Foreign Office declared they knew nothing of any plan for French occupation of Hamburg, and the ground for this disclaimer would seem also to exclude Bremen.

Great Britain holds that all these threatened exactions not only violate the Treaty of Versailles, but would plunge Germany into a deeper economic and political mire from which it would be impossible for her to extricate herself.

CONSIDERING SITUATION

The British Government is considering the whole situation to-day with a view to instructing its delegates in the Council of Ambassadors in the light of Premier Poincare's threatened action. There is no indication, however, that the Cabinet will yield on its already declared policy respecting the return of Friedrich Wilhelm Hohenzollern and the extension of the Allied military measures in occupied Germany. The view prevails among officials here that M. Poincare's conditions are largely of an intimidatory nature, designed to coerce Germany and at the same time force a change of attitude on the part of Great Britain.

NEW YORK ROBBERS GOT A HAUL OF FURS VALUED AT $50,000

EUROPEAN EXCHANGE RATES FALL LOWER IN UNITED STATES

New York, Nov. 16.—Demand sterling "stumpers" rose cent to 44.32, a new low for the year, and French francs dropped 4 points to 5.274 a record low figure, at the opening of to-day's foreign exchange market. Most of the other Continental exchanges fell lower as a consequence of the decline of sterling. Holland's guilder advanced to 1.2192 low at 37.19 cents, off 11 points from yesterday.

Poincare Denies France to Blame For no Agreement

Paris, Nov. 16.—Premier Poincare took issue with Premier Baldwin of Great Britain as to who is to blame for the present Franco-British differences when he rose unexpectedly to speak in the Chamber of Deputies this afternoon during an interpellation on foreign affairs.

"I can assure you that it is by our fault an agreement has not been reached," M. Poincare declared. "For several years we have not ceased to make concessions from our rights, and the Treaty of Versailles, which we have signed, is a proof of this. The attitude is uncompromising."

The Premier said he had not intended to speak, because he could not at this time speak on our side, but the occurrence in the British Parliament yesterday could not be allowed to pass, and must be answered immediately.

ROMANIAN AEROPLANES

The British Premier, M. Poincare said, had supported the German point of view in the Council of Ambassadors during discussion of the seizure of twelve Franco-Romanian commercial aeroplanes in Germany, although the Treaty of Versailles gave the Allies most favored national treatment in commercial aerial matters, and later the British delegates had stated this position when the subject was submitted to the jurists. "It is a rupture of the Entente Cordiale," greeted the statement of the British attitude.

Brilliant Function to be Held at Armories Next Thursday

With the thoroughness characteristic of the "men in blue" the Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association have launched a wholehearted into the preparations for their annual ball, which is to be the outstanding affair of next week.

In order not to conflict with the hockey games, the ball was changed to Thursday, November 22, instead of Friday, and the popular move is evidenced in the unusually heavy demand for tickets. The police have received word that among the guests at the ball will be Capt. Mason and Lieut. Smith of the Seattle police force.

To ensure the maximum of enjoyment for guests a veritable army of members of the force have been assigned to the ball.

WILL SING ONLY IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 16.—Madame Galli-Curci has announced that she will not sing with the Chicago Opera Company next year because the management refused to show her consideration in the choosing of the opening songs, in which she usually appears. Madame Galli-Curci charged that commercialism was responsible for the Chicago management's policy and said her only plans called for her appearance with the Metropolitan Opera Company. The refusal of the management to permit her to appear in Deborah, her favorite opera and the one in which she scored her first success in New York, Madame Galli-Curci said, was responsible for her decision. Officials of the opera company, she added, requested her to sing in "Lakme."

LIQUOR GRAFT TRIAL OPENS IN VANCOUVER

George McLeod, Former Enforcement Supervisor Here, Faces Extortion Charges

Vancouver, Nov. 16.—The trial of George C. McLeod, of Victoria, former supervisor of the enforcement of the Liquor Act for B. C., who was released from service by Attorney-General Manson last Spring for attempted graft in a liquor "joint" for colored gentlemen known as the "Lincoln Club" in Vancouver, has opened here before Mr. Justice Gregory and a jury in the Assize Court.

McLeod returned to Vancouver about a month ago and has since been working up evidence to fight the case.

Reginald Dodson, colored, opened the evidence for the prosecution by telling how McLeod attempted to extort $50 from him in the colored gentlemen's club.

McLeod pleaded not guilty and is being defended by J. A. Russell.

No women were permitted by either Alex. Henderson, K.C., crown prosecutor, or Mr. Russell, to be empaneled on the jury and many prospective jurors were challenged.

There are six counts to the indictment against McLeod. The basis of the charges is that he threatened to accuse Dodson of unlawfully having unsealed liquor in possession of the Lincoln Club, 102 Georgia Street east, of which Dodson was manager, the intention of the threat being to extort $50 from the colored man. Alternatively McLeod is charged with accepting a $50 bribe.

In response to a telephone call on May 12 Dodson said he invited McLeod to call at the club and there the Liquor Control Board officer told the colored man that liquor had been found on his premises.

Dodson was informed, according to his own evidence, that he would be fined and the fine would be $50.

"But we don't care to prosecute," added McLeod, according to the witness. "We do all the work and the city gets all the money. What is it worth to you?"

At this stage Dodson said he asked McLeod just what his official position was.

"I am head of the lawyers," the colored man said he was informed. "We can prosecute if we like or we can drop it."

McLeod pressed for $75, said Dodson, to drop the case; but Dodson demurred and pointed out that sum was $25 greater than the fine. McLeod pointed out Dodson would have to pay a lawyer, but Dodson said he retorted that would not be necessary if he pleaded guilty.

"What is the time you need one?" interposed Mr. Justice Gregory.

McLeod left and Dodson then reported to the police station to learn where he stood in the matter.

The upshot of it was that after further negotiations an interview was arranged with McLeod and $50 in marked bills, two twenties and a ten, were handed to Dodson by Inspector Sutherland of the dry squad. The inspector and Sergeant Tukey and Detective Thompson were secreted in a room of the club adjoining that where the deal between McLeod and Dodson was completed. The money was paid over. The officers entered, arrested McLeod and found the marked money on him.

The trial was suddenly interrupted and postponed until to-day when Mr. Russell suddenly collapsed in court and could not go on.

MILITARY HONORS AT SEATTLE FUNERAL

George Marsh, Aged British Veteran, Died Suddenly

Seattle, Nov. 16.—Funeral services for the late George Marsh, seventy-five years old, a widely known British war veteran who dropped dead in a downtown store Tuesday, will be held under military auspices from the premises of the Cremation Society of Washington on Sunday.

Marsh was a former member of the Royal Household Scottish Guards, being a color-sergeant of that organization. He served in the Egyptian campaign, and was awarded three medals for valor. So far as is known, all his relatives reside in Scotland. He had been living here several years.

The funeral service will be held under auspices of the British Society and the American Legion, with a firing squad from Fort Lawton in attendance. Interment will be held in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

FORMER DUKE OF CUMBERLAND DIED

Gmunden, Nov. 16.—Ernest August Wilhelm, Duke of Brunswick-Lüneburg and former Duke of Cumberland in the British peerage, died Wednesday.

Ernest August Wilhelm was born in Hanover, Germany, in 1845, the son of the King of Hanover. He was a cousin of the late King Edward. He was a cavalry commander in the British army, but adhered to the German cause during the Great War and was deprived in 1919 of his British rank of nobility by a King's Order-in-Council.

Prior to the war the duke was considered one of the most wealthy of European royalty, but his fortune became greatly depleted through his purchase of German and Austrian war bonds and later through the collapse of the financial situation in Central Europe.

New York, Nov. 16.—The world's record for tractive power of draft horses was broken at the National Horse Show yesterday when a team in the class of four weighing more than 3,500 pounds, entered by a local firm, successfully started a load of 32,000 pounds. The previous record was 30,000 pounds.

GREAT PYTHON IN U.S. ZOO WITHOUT FOOD FOR MONTHS

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 16.—A giant python in the Philadelphia Zoo has gone eight months without food because it will eat nothing but live animals. Keepers have refrained from feeding the serpent through fear that the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals might object. This fear has now been dispelled and next week it will be fed. Its meat will consist of a live pig weighing fifty pounds.

Faced with the problem, an official of the S.P.C.A. decreed: "The snake must be fed, no matter how. While it may be cruelty to let the pig suffer such a death, it is far more cruel to let the snake expire from starvation."

PRINCE GEORGE MAN IN FATAL ACCIDENT

Late George R. McCullagh Was Husband of Edna Marwick of Victoria

Prince George, Nov. 16.—George Robert McCullagh, one of the city's leading business men, died in the city hospital Wednesday as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day.

In company with F. J. Noble, an intimate friend, Mr. McCullagh went on a hunting trip in the latter's car and were on their way home shortly after two o'clock in the afternoon when the car slipped on a greasy section of the Mud River Road and went over the bank.

Mr. Noble was thrown clear when the car turned over, but Mr. McCullagh was caught in the machine. A passing auto picked up the injured man and rushed him to the hospital.

Mr. McCullagh suffered great agony on the drive to the hospital, but after receiving attention he appeared to pick up. He commenced to sink about midnight and passed away shortly after six o'clock in the morning.

In September last he was married to Miss Edna Mary Ellen Marwick, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marwick, of Victoria. The late Mr. McCullagh had relatives in Vancouver, Winnipeg and Edson. Death is believed to have been due to internal injuries.

TRADE CONVENTION HELD AT PORTLAND

United States Coast Business Men Discuss Foreign Field

Portland, Nov. 16.—The third annual convention of the Pacific Foreign Trade Council entered upon its second day's session to-day with addresses scheduled on merchant marine subjects by Government officials. Simultaneously with the opening of the main convention this morning, group conferences on various trade problems got under way.

At noon a luncheon tendered by the Portland Chamber of Commerce to the visiting delegates was featured with a programme to be put on by the Foreign Trade Club of San Francisco. The Chamber of Commerce at which L. W. Pontious, assistant deputy governor of the federal reserve bank of San Francisco, will be the chief speaker.

250 DELEGATES THERE

Speakers from all parts of the Pacific Coast territory participated in the discussions yesterday, there being some 250 delegates present, including bankers, exporters and business men.

In the discussion opportunities for expansion of the foreign trade of the Pacific Coast were balanced against the handicaps which face that development in discussions.

William Piggott, president of the council, declared that the Pacific Coast must take the lead in the development of trade not only with China and Japan, but with the rest of the Asia also. John S. Barber, of Los Angeles, declared that to insure the welfare of American shipping the Government-owned tonnage must be liquidated and that conditions must be established which will enable American ship to compete with foreign ones.

W. R. Keene, vice-president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, urged the necessity of serious thought to the problem of developing a privately-owned merchant marine under the United States flag. He also urged the importance of adequate port facilities.

GEN. SMUTS SCORES SAPRU FOR ATTACK

London, Nov. 16.—Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, chief Indian delegate to the recent Imperial Conference, in an interview with Reuters on the eve of his departure for India commented on his failure to reach an understanding with other nations on the subject of the status of Indians in South Africa, and declared Premier Smuts had heaped insult on the Government of India and by his attitude of obstinacy had harmed the Empire of which he posed as a champion.

In an interview last night Premier Smuts expressed surprise and regret at Sapru's attack, which he feared would do the cause of India a great disservice. He added that a difficult case was unlikely to be made easier by "vehement attacks on the representatives of other nations. The Dominions had been represented at the Imperial Conference by Premiers who were vested with full responsibility. Sir Tej who was not even an ordinary member of the Government of India, had departed from the etiquette which all other representatives of the conference had observed to attack each other."

Premier Smuts repudiated the "judicious charge" that he had heaped insult on the Government of India.

HIGHER U.S. WHEAT DUTY PREDICTED

Tariff Commission is to Hold an Inquiry

Washington, Nov. 16.—Nelson B. Updike, publisher of The Omaha Bee, after a talk with President Coolidge yesterday, predicted that a higher tariff on wheat "as a means of aiding the middle west wheat farmer, will be a reality in a few weeks."

"Declaring he had been amazed to find the President 'had voluminous and accurate information at hand concerning the middle west conditions,'" Mr. Updike said that "it will be gratifying to the wheat farmers of the middle west to learn that the first thing President Coolidge has done is to take steps to meet the present emergency as it now exists and permit other means to work out as fast as possible."

THE HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN

The citizens Jubilee Hospital building fund committee is anxious to bring the campaign now in progress to a triumphant conclusion at the end of next week. It is to do this it must have the services of a corps of canvassers who will be able to cover the district in that period. Those who have been conducting the preliminary stage of the canvas this week will have to be reinforced extensively by Monday, and considering the worthy object of the campaign we are confident that the need will be abundantly supplied. No doubt our service organizations are devoting their attention to this matter, since community service, especially that which helps humanitarian projects, is the chief object of their existence, and the call to them in the present campaign, therefore, is particularly insistent. The response so far has been altogether gratifying. A number of our public-spirited citizens of means have made handsome contributions to the cause, notwithstanding the many other demands upon them, feeling that no institution is more entitled to their support than one which is devoted to the care of the sick and suffering. Such a cause requires no apology and should need very little argument to commend itself to the general public.

THE RIGHT POLICY

Although it may be necessary for Hon. Mr. Robb to advocate certain reservations from time to time, it can be said at once that his proposal to invite all the healthy people the outside world can send us is the shortest cut to greater settlement of Canada's vacant lands and the prosperity that it will produce.

The Minister is obviously on the right track and he is entitled to congratulation on his courage. We assume that his plans will provide for a plain invitation with a full charge of facts about the country and what will be expected of the new citizen on his arrival and afterwards. If such a course be followed, and we take it that Mr. Robb has overlooked nothing, it ought to be possible to limit the misfits to insignificant numbers.

No doubt the Minister of Immigration will be informed by certain elements that he is about to embark upon a policy which will merely produce unemployment because very few people will be content to go on the land and work hard. Fortunately Mr. Robb will not be moved by such nonsense. His official position and the information at his disposal will enable him to disprove this convenient objection to the open door. He knows perfectly well that not every new citizen will make a success on the farm. There will be some failures; but we hazard the guess that the man on the outside who has been out of work for a few months, with little prospect of conditions improving, will put up with a good many things as long as he can keep body and soul together in some semblance of comfort.

Nor should it be forgotten that rural life may boast of amenities in these days that were never dreamed of when the thousands of inexperienced farmers who have made a success of life in Canada were digging their way to the competence which this country promises every man with grit and resolution. Modern science and invention have spanned the gulf between the lonely homestead and the bright lights of the city. And one hesitates to speculate upon the possibilities of the radio and such other progressive influences that must mean much to the man whose task lies in the open spaces.

Mr. Robb may rest assured that his policy will bring results. The people who realize the need of population will tell him to issue his invitation to all those who are mentally and physically sound. The people we want will not mind being told that hard work and some privation await them. It is up to those who are already here to help them and turn them into good Canadians.

THAT CUSTOMS OFFICER

It was good business on the part of the Government and still better business on the part of the Legislature to support British Columbia's request for the appointment of a Canadian customs officer at New York. It does not follow that yesterday's action, even though the Minister of Customs has now signified his intention of recommending the belated appointment, will produce the desired results; but such a demonstration of earnestness should assist the Dominion Government to resist the pressure that is always brought to bear upon it whenever this now belated question comes up.

To say that the people of British Columbia are constantly being "done" because they have to pay a duty on Eastern Canadian goods, transhipped to this Province from New York via the Panama Canal, is putting it mildly. It simply means that much of the advantage that it was hoped would be derived from the shorter water route is lost through the absence of a Canadian bonding officer at the point of trans-shipment in the United States. The constitutional rights of British Columbia are seriously impaired and will remain so as long as such a policy of inter-provincial trade restriction is allowed to obtain. We shall hope, therefore, that the resolution of the Legislature will result in a satisfactory settlement of this long-standing question.

USEFUL CONVENTIONS

Any gathering which permits the businessman and private citizen of this Province to discuss questions of interest to every member of our all too small population is always fruitful of progressive works. Such a conference is now taking place in the City of Vancouver and representatives from forty-five Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce have gathered together for the dispatch of business which directly involves many important British Columbia movements.

One of the foremost topics to engage the attention of the Associated Boards of Trade is that of the trans-provincial highway. The assembled delegates will hear the exponents of the Northern and Southern routes present their respective arguments—as they have done on more than one previous occasion—and reach the conclusion that engineering advice will have to settle the question in the final analysis. Many other questions, such as that of the appointment of a Canadian customs officer at New York and a Chair of Commerce at the University of British Columbia, will be threshed out before the gathering adjourns. The point to be remembered, however, is that a Board of Trade or a Chamber of Commerce is a vital factor in any community and this annual conference may well be described as the pooling of the year's ideas and progress. From such it should be possible to extract practical plans for general adoption. For herein lies the worth of face to face discussion—a means of understanding the other's point of view and of lending and obtaining assistance.

SATISFACTORY

Although the success or failure of a year's business cannot always be determined by the experience of six months it is usually possible to get a fair idea of the prospects at the half way stage. Consequently there is material for congratulation and satisfaction in the statement which Mr. Hart presented to the Legislature yesterday afternoon. It shows that the administration of the Department of Finance over the period covered in the review has been marked with a firm regard for economy in expenditure, and the fact that more than half of the expected revenue for the twelve months already has reached the Treasury signifies a similar close attention to essentials. The Minister provided for the spending of $20,097,000 during the fiscal year; but $8,646,724—substantially less than half of the amount—has been considered sufficient for the April-September period. If the full trading account at the end of next March shall disclose an equally satisfactory second six months' the Department may look upon its achievement with pardonable pride.

Note and Comment

Once more we remind our readers that this is a day in the middle of November and not one in early June—although the sun and warm atmosphere might suggest the latter.

Germany says she can not and will not pay reparations until France gets out of the Ruhr. France has no intention of doing that until she has collected. What are they going to do about it?

A writer in a local contemporary says "we do not believe that a preference for the products of the Dominions will increase the cost of living to the consumers of the British Isles." Unfortunately for the preference, the people of the British Isles did believe that it would increase their cost of living. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain and other leading tariff reformers in the United Kingdom having admitted this, and the electors declined to adopt it. That was why Canada never has asked the British Government for preferential tariff treatment. She would welcome it, of course, in her own interests, but it must come as unsolicited by her as her preferential tariff in favor of the British Isles was unsolicited by the British Government. Incidentally, prominent among the advocates in Canada for a preference in the British market are those who vigorously attacked the Canadian policy of giving British goods a preference in the Canadian markets.

MCGEER EXPLAINS
NEWSPAPER CHARGE

Freight Rates Paid Advertising Undertaken With Consent of Two Premiers

Vancouver, Nov. 15.—G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for the B.C. Government and the Alberta Government in the freight rates fight, has issued a statement dealing in full with charges brought against him by The Vancouver World in connection with disbursement of money for newspaper advertisements during the campaign before the Privy Council at Ottawa.

The World, in its attack, telegraphed from Victoria, asserted that "the treasury is raided for The Daily Sun without the knowledge or consent of the Government and without any private member being privy to the facts."

Mr. McGeer in his statement says that the expenditures were incurred for full page advertisements in eastern newspapers showing the advantages of the western route for grain and these expenditures were authorized by the Premiers of B.C. and Alberta, who sanctioned an outlay of $10,000 for that purpose.

Of the $10,000, a total of $4,792.58 was disbursed. Mr. McGeer, in his opinion, declares that this expenditure is amply justified by results.

The World stated that the advertisements "appear to have been authorized by Mr. McGeer in the name of The Vancouver Sun, through Morgan Eastman, entirely on his own responsibility, without consultation with any member of the Government."

THE OTHER SIDE

In the following statement Mr. McGeer explains where the money went and the part played in the publicity campaign by R. J. Cromie, publisher of The Vancouver Sun, and Morgan Eastman.

"Following the reception of Premier Oliver's remarks in Eastern Canada at the public meetings, particularly in the city of Toronto and the city of Montreal," says Mr. McGeer, "I decided in connection with western transportation problems, not only freight rates, but in so far as they were affected by the East through regulations, that it would be in the interest of the western provinces to in some way place the facts known in Western Canada before the public of the East. This necessity was not only considered of general value to the West by myself, but was considered as necessary to offset many of the views held and expressed by various newspaper writers and appearing editorially in eastern newspapers."

DISCUSSED WITH PREMIERS

"On my return I discussed this matter with the Prime Minister of this Province and also discussed it with the Prime Minister of Alberta and the Attorney-General of that province, and as a result of these discussions it was decided to appropriate the sum of $10,000 to carry out this work."

"I then engaged the services of Morgan Eastman, and R. J. Cromie, publisher of The Vancouver Sun, who had taken up the issue through his journal, held several conferences with me as to the best way that such a publicity campaign could be carried out. After some discussion it was decided that we would place full-page advertisements displaying the facts of the transportation problems of the West. The services of Mr. Cromie were given in the preparation of various advertising sheets and the services of his advertising and printing departments were also used."

FOR ADVERTISEMENTS

As a result, full-page advertisements appeared in The Toronto Globe, Ottawa Citizen, Winnipeg Free Press and The Mail and Empire, and of the sum of $10,000 a total of $4,792.58 was paid to Morgan Eastman to the account of the Province of British Columbia. No money was paid to Mr. Cromie for the services that he rendered or for any advertisements carried in his paper. Each of the full-page advertisements was carried in The Vancouver Sun and in fact some advertisements appeared in The Sun that were not used in the eastern papers. But no advertising space that was extended by The Vancouver Sun was done for nothing and there was no suggestion at any time that it should be paid for. Mr. Cromie rendered a bill for $250 for the preparation of mats which to date has not been paid. We considered that as far as the West was concerned that the facts were sufficiently well known here and that no such publicity campaign was necessary."

JUSTIFY EXPENDITURES

"The direct result of the publicity campaign was an amount of editorial space in the eastern journals favorable to the western claims, and in my way of thinking, had the effect of bringing the possibilities of future development in Western Canada to the attention of the East in a way that has never before, and certainly with results that have never before been accomplished. The suggestion that The Sun was a financial beneficiary, as alleged in The World, is incorrect. The Sun may have benefited indirectly by virtue of the fact that all of the advertisements used in the eastern newspapers were pages that had formerly been used by The Sun, and on each eastern advertisement appeared the statement that the advertisement was compiled and published by The Vancouver Sun. It did not appear to me at the time that there was any particular advantage accruing to The Sun from the fact that these words were inserted in the advertisement."

Birth of Louis Honore Prechett, 1836

Nov. 16, 1836—Louis Honore Prechett, the famous French-Canadian poet, who was also a journalist of exceptional ability and a lawyer and statesman, was born on this date and was educated at the Quebec Seminary and Laval University. He was called to the bar in 1864, and his literature had much more attraction for him than law, and the greater part of his life was devoted to the muse.

During his career as a journalist he worked in Chicago, 1866-1871, and in 1875 he was engaged in editing three French papers, one in Quebec,

Esquimalt P.-T.A. Hears Address on Teaching the Retarded Child

The Esquimalt Parent-Teacher Association held a well attended meeting in the Lamson Street School last evening. The speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Griffiths, who took as her subject the abnormal or retarded child. Mrs. Griffiths said that the need for special teaching for the physically defective had been recognized, and there were schools for the blind, deaf and dumb, and also for crippled children, where they were given vocational training to fit them to make their way in life in spite of their infirmities. No less pressing was the need of those mentally unable to benefit from the ordinary curriculum suited to the normally intelligent child, and to meet that need two classes had now been started in the schools of Victoria, while Vancouver had sixteen.

Social service workers express their high approval of the movement, and emphasize the work by finding suitable employment for the children on leaving school and keeping in touch with them. Speaking of the extra expense involved in separate tuition for the subnormal child, Mrs. Griffiths said it was very little compared to the amount required to finance the penal and charitable institutions rendered necessary by neglect of caring for such children and helping them to become self-supporting.

The speaker touched on the new regulations for raising the standard of teachers, and suggested that with a high standard set, a greater trust should be placed in the teacher, who should be allowed right of judgment in dealing with the individuals in their classes and with the curriculum.

At the close of her interesting address Mrs. Griffiths was tendered a vote of thanks by the president, Mrs. J. A. Nicol, who was heartily endorsed by the meeting.

Miss Beatrice McDonald's rendering of "If Winter Comes" was greatly appreciated, as was the old-time favorite, "Just a Song at Twilight," sung by Jack McCall. Both artists were enthusiastically encored.

A donation of $25 to the milk fund was received from the Board of School Trustees, who were thanked for their generosity. School Nurse Morrison reported that 329 half-pints of milk had been given during October to under-nourished children in needy circumstances, and 1,411 half-pints had been sold to other children.

Mrs. Saunders reported the progress of the Hallowe'en party, which had been devoted to the milk fund. Mrs. Nicol thanked all who had assisted in making the event so signal a success. Mrs. King wished to specially thank those who so generously donated prizes.

The principal, Harold Campbell, briefly explained the school banking system as proposed by the Bank of Commerce, and the scheme was received with favor by the meeting.

The following ladies were named as a sick committee: Mesdames Davis, Elton, Nicol, King, Hodgson, Fraser, Watson, Cave, Griffiths, Silk, McFarlane, Sanders and T. Cave, each to have charge of a small district to assist Nurse Morrison in her work.

ARE YOU AFRAID OF THE WEATHER?

Never be without Peps if you are at all susceptible to coughs, colds and chills. Dissolved in the mouth, these breathable tablets instantly fill the chest and lungs with their healing germicidal vapours. These strengthen the air passages and repel germ-attack.

Peps end the snuffling and sneezing, the wheezing, soreness and cough before it develops into bronchitis or dangerous lung trouble. Peps are speedily effective and vastly safer and better than dangerous drug-laden mixtures or tablets containing harmful chemicals.

As a preventive and remedy for coughs, colds and chills, whoeziness, hoarseness, grippe, bronchitis and sore throat, nothing can equal Peps. Splendid also for weak-chested children and old folk, and for preachers, singers and public speakers.

FOR COUGHS, COLDS & CHILLS

"I have a letter from sister Peggy. I expect it tells all about the college football game. Who wants to hear it?" asked Mother, setting herself before the living-room fire.

The family promptly gathered round; for Peggy was the pretty, popular, fashionable young woman who always had a lively tale to tell of the doings at the girls' college she attended.

"It was a gorgeous day, not a bit too cold, and my roommate, Laura Bell, and I went with two of the snappiest boys you ever saw."

Mother turned over the page, "ate a melted cheese sandwich."

"That's not right," Mother turned back to page one, "they were 'sitting'."

Mother turned over to page four, and read, "send me my blue batik scarf."

"no, that can't be right," "it certainly doesn't make sense," commented Father.

"Why, I know," announced Betty, hanging over the back of Mother's chair. "All the girls are doing it. First, you write the first page, then you write the third page, crossways, then you skip over to page four, and then you skip over to page four, and write that crossways."

"Well," said Mother, decisively, "hereafter letters written to me and

GIVE MEDICINE THROUGH CITY TAPS

New York Starts Wholesale Movement to Eliminate Goitre

Wholesale supply of preventive medicine by way of the kitchen tap has been undertaken at Rochester, New York, where the city's water is being contaminated with iodine for short periods in order to eliminate it is hoped—the prevalent affliction of goitre.

Goitre is now known to be due, at any rate to a large extent, to lack of sufficient iodine in either food or water.

By adding about twenty parts of it, in the form of sodium iodide, to every billion parts of water, twice a year for two weeks, it is hoped to give to the human system, and to the thyroid gland, the material it needs to prevent goitre in young children.

The treatment has been actually started, and the dosing of a city through its waterworks may be the forerunner of other wholesale methods of dealing with epidemics.

Mr. F. J. Stacpoole, who has been spending a few weeks' holiday visiting in Grand Forks with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Acres, has returned to Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. David Dolg, of Cook Street, left last night on the Dorothy Alexander for San Francisco where they will transfer to the Loch Goll, R.M.S.P. Line, for a trip to Europe via the Panama Canal.

Hon. W. H. Sutherland and Mrs. Sutherland, St. James's Street, were hosts at a dinner party last evening, when among the guests were the Premier and Mrs. Oliver, Hon. J. D. MacLean and Mrs. MacLean, Hon. E. D. Barrow and Mrs. Barrow, Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, Mr. David White-side and Mr. Alec Paterson.

Col. W. B. Forster, formerly manager of the B. C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade, with his wife and baby, left to-day for Paris, where Col. Forster is taking up a new position, as assistant manager to General R. Bruthine, C.B., who is engaged in rehabilitation work in France and Belgium, with trading interests in Greece and Canada.

Many local friends of Mr. C. B. Jones, formerly Reeve of Saanich, will be interested to learn that he was among those instrumental in forming the first Canadian Club in New Zealand, at Auckland, a few weeks ago, when he was appointed vice-president. The membership is restricted to Canadian subjects born or naturalized Canadian citizens who have resided five years in Canada.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Galletly and Mrs. John Irving entertained with one table of mah jong and four of bridge at the home of the former on Beach Drive. Among the guests present were Mrs. and Miss Pooley, Mrs. Phipps, Mrs. Charles Todd, Mrs. W. J. Bowser, Mrs. Dunbar, Mrs. E. R. A. Russell, Lady McBride, Mrs. Dick, Mrs. J. Hunter, Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. C. J. V. Spratt, Mrs. C. C. Bennett, Mrs. A. W. Jones, Mrs. Forman, Mrs. Fleet-Robertson, Mrs. Louis Davies, Miss Adair and Miss Wright.

STATE GOVERNOR IN FINANCIAL TROUBLE

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—Governor McCray's equities in all the assets which he turned over to a committee several weeks ago for the benefit of his creditors aggregate $8,727.48, except for two or three items classed as "indefinite," according to a letter sent to the creditors by the committee, which was made public to-day.

Canada Can Absorb 300,000 New Citizens a Year, Lands Minister Declares; Government Seeks to Keep Logs In B.C. For Manufacture, He Tells House, But Warns Against Interfering With Lumber Operations

"We must have more people in Canada—we can't stand still," Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, declared in the Legislature yesterday as he outlined the settlement needs of British Columbia. "If you stop people coming in you stop progress," the Minister warned. Immigration, he declared, is the most important issue before the public to-day. More people had come to Canada up to 1921 than had left the country, he added, and it was only due to the lack of a comprehensive colonization policy that citizens had left Canada since that time. Now, however, an active immigration plan had been evolved by the Federal Government, a plan already producing good results, he pointed out.

Canada need not be afraid of the ebb and flow of population, Mr. Pattullo asserted. Many years ago one-fourth of the population of Chicago was made up of Canadians, he said. "Canada can absorb 300,000 new citizens annually," he affirmed. Supposing you had an island off the coast with that population, would you go out after their business? Certainly, and it would be much better to have those 300,000 people right here in our own country. The Minister claimed a modest credit for having stimulated an immigration sentiment. He declared Canada to be the most favored country in the world and the best governed, and British Columbia the best section of Canada and the best governed Province.

ELECTORS CONTENT

Claiming that the Oliver administration had been largely responsible for the stabilizing of conditions in British Columbia, Mr. Pattullo, outlined his reasons for believing that the electors were content with present governmental conditions and would return, accordingly, to power at the next election. "When the voters consider the rectitude of purpose, the integrity of intentions and the results achieved, they will say: 'Well done good and faithful servants, continue the good work,'" the Minister predicted.

The Minister outlined financial and development conditions in the Province for many years back. In 1912, he said, the late government had brought about, through the sale of the Province's natural resources, a period of inflation. Naturally, deflation followed. Then came the war. A very scattered settlement had come about, and consequently there followed an elaborate machinery of government, a costly administration.

REVENUE DROPS

The revenue had dropped to $6,000,000 in 1916, he pointed out, with the Government of that day running behind $3,000,000 annually for six years. The estimated revenue in 1918, the year the Liberal Government came into office, was $6,000,000, with estimated expenditures amounting to $11,000,000.

"This Government has been accused of running the Province into bankruptcy," he continued. "But I notice the financiers think enough of the bonds of British Columbia to pay as much or more for them as they do for those of the older provinces. And considering the conditions I have outlined, together with the inheritance of the P.G.E. Railway, deficits to meet and general depression, it is easy to see why taxes had to be increased."

DEFENDS RECLAMATIONS

"If the present Government could have started, without the enumerated handicaps, there would have been a different story to tell," he went on.

He defended the South Okanagan reclamation and irrigation project, explaining that when the returned men arrived home they had demanded rehabilitation.

Certain works had to be undertaken and it was admitted that with costs at the peak and labor not as efficient as to-day, the project had cost more than one would have liked. However, he added, Great Britain had spent $140,000,000 in one year on dikes, and labor leaders were now advocating the discontinuance of dikes and the substitution of needed public works. British Columbia Government, he contended, had taken this course years ago and should be commended for it. "Do not pass judgment without considering all these things," he admonished. "We met the exigencies as they arose and I believe have earned the commendation of the electors."

NO CASE MADE OUT

Reviewing the recent speeches of the Conservative Members, Mr. Pattullo declared that the Opposition had been unable to make out against

The next session of the commission is set for Friday, a week from to-day, when it is expected that this and other matters will be taken up.

Efforts of the Tourist Group of the Chamber of Commerce to secure a bird sanctuary on Vancouver Island have been rewarded by the recent announcement from Ottawa that from the George Bridge, North, will be set aside for this purpose. The matter was taken up by the Tourist Trade Group over a year ago when it was learned shooting was prohibited in the district. The order from the Equimait, Saanich and Provincial Police was secured in preventing war being waged on the birds in that section. Over two hundred guests attended the masquerade dance held in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium on Tuesday evening under the auspices of Court Maple Leaf, A.O.F. Order of the Moose, and the music for dancing. The prize-winners were: Mrs. Pearson, best dressed lady; Mr. Sisley, best dressed gentleman; Mrs. Ralph Harvey, Mr. Crothall, most original costumes; Mrs. J. Black, Mr. Soucie, best sustained characters; Mr. W. McDowell, best advertising costume; for Rennie & Taylor; Mrs. Birney and Mrs. Kincaid, two special prizes; Mrs. F. Lock and Mr. Ross, best national costumes. Mr. Ross won the tambora prize of half-ton of coal. Miss Braden won a scrip prize donated by F. and A. Lock; Mrs. Platt received a basket of fruit, and Messrs. J. Denyer and Lock won the two special prizes donated by the Victoria Feed Co.

A building permit was issued to-day for a handsome residence of frame and stucco, to be erected at 1524 Shasta Avenue for Miss H. M. Nation. It has been designed in the English style, and will be built by James. The contractor is Peter McKennie, and Thacker & Holt have received the contract for the plumbing. The residence will be of ten rooms, two stories in height, and will cost $15,000. It is the largest residence permit issued in the city for some time. Those passing the corner of Fort and Douglas Streets will have observed alterations at the Boscowitz block, where changes are being made in store frontage. W. Leonard, 1017 Linden Avenue, is making an addition to his garage, and W. Dandridge, 1834 Oak Bay Avenue, is having structural alterations at that address.

THREE SHIPPING MISHAPS IN FOG

Ss. Princess Alice Damaged
Steamer F. S. Loop in Collision

Vancouver, Nov. 16.—Three fog casualties were reported overnight, two collisions and one stranding. The Canadian Pacific coast steamer Princess Alice, outbound from Seattle to Vancouver, collided with the lumber carrier F. S. Loop off Marrowstone Point, near Port Townsend. The F. S. Loop struck the C. P. R. steamer, and the freight doors on the starboard side were damaged. The F. S. Loop suffered stem and port bow damage, and proceeded to Port Townsend. The Alice came on to Vancouver, arriving at 9:30 a.m.

CAMOSUN ASHORE
The Union Steamship Company passenger steamer Camosun, went ashore on the sandy beach opposite Prospect Point at 11:30 p.m. Thursday. The ship was inbound from northern ports, and met the night C. P. R. steamer outbound. The fog was blinding. In the efforts to avoid a collision the Camosun slid on the sand and stayed there. She pulled herself off at high tide to-day and will sail on time to-night.

COWICHAN BUMPED
The steamer Cowichan of the same company touched with the towboat Wireless. Neither was damaged. The Cowichan will sail on her regular schedule to-day.

E. AND N. WORK ON TERMINALS

Provision Has Been Made For Extension of Freight Yards

While very considerable work has been done, and is being done in connection with the development of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railways yards on the Reserve, and at the terminals on the eastern side of the harbor, it is not the immediate intention to grade and lay out the area south of the tracks, between the Sidney Roofing plant and the Shell Oil tanks. This statement was made by General Superintendent H. E. Beasley, in discussing the development being under taken at the Victoria terminals.

Mr. Beasley said the approach road now under construction from Johnson Street, extension over the subway into the yards will be designed to serve the high level, but that the extension of the yards southerly depends entirely on the "house" demands of business. Warehouse accommodation forms part of the plan when the property is developed.

Meanwhile the company is carrying out all its improvements on a definite basis, and all work is of a permanent character fitting into the development plan which the company drew up when it purchased its terminal lands on the Reserve. Since the filling in of the passenger station property new tracks have been laid, and carpenters are now at work on the platforms.

MAKE MARBLE EGG FOR INDIAN GRAVE

Indians Displaying Interest in Headstones, After Custom of Paleface Brethren

A marble egg, some fourteen inches long by nine inches through at the widest portion, has just been completed by the Stewart Monumental Works, for Indians on the Massett, B.C. Reserve. The egg is intended to be placed on the grave of a popular tribesman who died recently. Though the story behind the order is not fully known here, it is thought that the egg symbolizes some favorite pastime of the departed brave. For some years now Indians have been taking a keen and proprietary interest in monuments of out stone. On one occasion a great chief was drowned in the Fraser river. Not wishing to dispense with the honor of a headstone, the Indians of the Fraser valley decided to erect a headstone for the departed chief. This they committed to the waters of the Fraser with every ceremony of the headstone of the departed chief.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach, accompanied by flat, bloated feeling after eating, are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and creates a distending gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of evils to neglect ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Magnesia (in powder or tablet form) and take it with the food. This will drive the gas, wind and bloated feeling out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Eliminate Magnesia (in powder or tablet form) never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of insurance for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

URGES MORE FOR B.C. MINES: CONDITIONS BAD

Wallinger Attacks Government For Spending Most of Money For Tourists

"My belief in British Columbia's future has never wavered during my thirty-seven years residence in the Province, but I cannot see any justification of the Government's boasted optimism over present conditions," said N. A. Wallinger, Conservative Member for Cranbrook, in the Legislature yesterday afternoon.

He declared that the stock industry in Cranbrook riding had completely vanished, the last herd of cattle being sold a year ago for the small price of two and a half cents per pound. Consequently, thousands of acres of splendid grazing lands were idle, and the Government's indifference to the settlers was the big cause of this condition.

Mr. Wallinger said men were being forced out of the country because they could not make a living. Friends had asked him for advice and he had referred them to the Land Settlement Board. They were unable to produce the collateral ask by the Board, so they had to quit, he declared.

Mr. Wallinger declared that of the 315 prospectors in his district a short time ago only twelve remained. They too, had been driven out. He said only 1115 had been spent by the Department of Mines to assist prospectors, while fabulous sums had been granted for tourist roads. He advised the Government to pay more attention to the miners and less to tourists.

Mr. Wallinger asserted that the present system of making mining reports was no good. There should be a plan whereby engineers' reports were coupled with those of Government geologists, so that a comprehensive idea might be gained of the possibilities, he said.

NO MINING ACTIVITY

There had not been a single mining deal put through in his district for a long time, and only one had been made in the neighboring districts, Mr. Wallinger went on. He spoke of the efforts of mining operators to open up properties. One concern wished to spend $25,000 on a property but the roads were in such a condition that nothing could be done until they were improved. However, the Government would only vote $200 for the purpose. In another instance, he said, a prospecting concern was forced to delay its work for a year for similar reasons.

The Cranbrook Member denounced the Government's road policy, claiming that large sums of money were being wasted. He advised the Minister of Lands to take off his "rose glasses," so that the picture he viewed would not be so unduly bright.

Mr. Wallinger spoke in favor of the abolition or reduction of the personal property tax, quoting an instance in Cranbrook where a firm with a $150,000 stock was making no profit, while paying heavy personal property taxes, and a foreigner with a $500 stock, and keeping no books, was clearing $1,000 a month and paying no taxes.

He advocated a greater easement against mine assessments claiming that as the ore reserves were reduced there should be a corresponding decrease in assessment. He favored greater consideration of civil servants.

Another Cloud on Land Titles

Not only will property upon which succession duties are owing to the Provincial Government be clouded by the shadow of a demand for duties, but it appears that the Federal Government at its last session took power to collect from the purchaser of property, a tax of 10 per cent of the purchase price. The Federal authorities are not required to give an notice of the existence of such a charge for the protection of purchasers.

This situation is now engaging the attention of the city solicitor, as the city will be faced with both these problems in dealing with the sale of land which has reverted at tax sale, and the title of which may be clouded by these liens.

IS DESIGNED TO PROTECT MIGRATORY BIRDS NEAR CITY

Sanctuary Gazetted Owing to Doubt on Jurisdiction of Two Governments

In the telegraphic news of Saturday The Times carried an announcement of the proposed bird sanctuary around the shore line of Victoria, and within the city. The Canada Gazette of November 10, which reached here by mail yesterday, the full text of the order is issued. It is worded as follows:

"Whereas the Acting Minister of the Interior reports that Victoria Harbor, Selkirk Water, Victoria Arm, Portage Inlet and the coastal waters of the southeast shore of Vancouver Island are the resort of many valuable and interesting species of migratory birds;

"And whereas the Government of the Province of British Columbia has reserved a Bird Sanctuary at this point;

"And whereas the question of the legality of provincial jurisdiction over tidal waters has been raised in connection with this sanctuary;

"And whereas the creation of a sanctuary, on these areas, under the provisions of the Migratory Birds Convention Act would provide the protection needed for these migratory birds, particularly those frequenting the tidal waters on which the jurisdiction of the Province has been questioned;

"And whereas the Department of dians and would aid settlement in Indian districts.

The foreman and harbor control question, outstanding since Confederation, also had been settled this year, he pointed out, giving the House the history of the matter. He said he did not regard as serious, Mr. Bowser's statement that the settlement reached between him and the Federal Government was ineffective and that a real settlement would require imperial action. The practical effect of the agreement, he asserted, would be to bring about a real settlement of the question.

Mr. Pattullo resented Mr. Bowser's criticism of Government ministers traveling about the country. He said the Opposition Leader had admitted that he did not have the opportunity to learn about British Columbia when in office, because of pressing duties at the capital. Why should Mr. Bowser deny to the Ministers the right to learn everything possible regarding the needs of the people? he asked. The trips of the Ministers had at least resulted in settling many long-standing problems, he declared.

CIVILIZATION IS RUDDERLESS TO-DAY

Dr. A. O. McRae Heard Before First Presbyterian Group; Officers Chosen

The trend of modern civilization formed the basis of an address by Dr. A. O. McRae before the Young Men's Association of the First Presbyterian Church last night. The trend of youth, he said was more toward material aims than ever before. The secular education of the schools has blinded the youth of today to the exercise of their judgment of values.

Civilization, he said, was drifting with the aimless activity of man's materialistic projects. The cry was business, and yet more business, but to what end, more dollars. There was much more in the world than business, there were the bigger and finer ends of civilization, and these were being ignored to-day.

Of what use is education if it were not in preparation for a new and better era wherein the brotherhood of man would take the place of the incessant dissensions of to-day. Education was as the sharpening of a tool; of what use to sharpen that tool if the wielder knew not how to apply it to useful work for the amelioration of the lot of mankind in the world. Dr. McRae closed with impressions he gathered while studying in Europe, and was heartily thanked for his instructive discourse.

In the election of officers which followed Hon. John Oliver was chosen honorary president. J. A. Heritage becomes president; Rev. W. G. Wilson and Rev. John Campbell become honorary officers. F. M. McGregor was elected vice-president. Alex. Swanson secretary-treasurer, while Messrs. J. M. Fraser, William T. Straith and Peter Cunningham take their place on the executive board. The meeting was in the nature of the annual gathering, and was well attended. Charles Conyers and Jack Smith sang.

WAR ON WOLVES NOW IN MISSOURI

Washington, Nov. 16.—Wolves are more of a menace in many sections of Missouri this year than they have been within the last forty years and the State and Federal Governments have combined to exterminate them.

So troublesome have they become to livestock and poultry that a special appropriation of $15,000 for fighting them was made by the State. The biological survey of the Department of Agriculture is co-operating and bearing part of the expense of wolf trappers. The Government has sent an inspector to select trappers, plan and direct their work, and to receive requests from counties needing assistance.

"Missouri wolf No. 1" was killed near Rolla, Phelps County, early in September, and since then wolves have been trapped in other counties.

Cougars Will Make Their Bow To-night

Opening Hockey Game of Season Will Be Played at Arena With Art Duncan's Maroons Being the Guests of the Evening; All Eyes Will Be Riveted Upon Jimmy Gibson, Victoria's Flashy New Forward, Who Will Probably Start at Right Wing

Ice hockey, king of winter sports the world over, arrives in Victoria to-night to cheer and stir the fans for the next four months.

The special bit at the arena to-night will be a game between the Maroons, of Vancouver, led by the good-looking Mr. Duncan, and the Cougars, who answer with a snarl when Capt. Clem Loughlin tells them to go and get a couple of goals.

Owing to the beautiful weather that has been the lot of Victoria this year it seems hard to realize that the time for hockey has come around again, but the calendar has told the Patricks to be up and doing and as a result they started on their thirteenth season on the Coast this week.

The two games played so far have served to give the fans an inkling of the surprises that are in store for them. Pete Muldoon and his pious, even if somewhat aged, squad have fooled all the wise ones and are entering the arena in front of the rest of the field like a lot of two-year-olds.

In each case Seattle has just managed to win by one goal, and in Wednesday's game Victoria forced the Mets into overtime. But one goal is as good as a million, except for the players who are after the individual scoring honors. When a goal has been wanted the Mets have proved capable of going out and getting it.

SQUADS ARE EVEN

Owing to the closeness of the two games played to date it looked as though the three squads are once again evenly-balanced and a penalty or a lucky shot is capable of swinging the verdict in favor of either of the clubs.

Vancouver fans enjoyed their opener on Monday night and the Seattle folks held their "at home" on Wednesday to-night is to see the local house-warming and the fans will be out in full numbers to give the Cougars all the support they need.

Referee Ion will set the teams in action at 8:30 o'clock and for three periods, and an extra one if necessary, the boys will be on the jump.

WATCHING JIMMY

All eyes will be centred upon Jimmy Gibson, the flashy youth Lester Patrick received from Calgary in exchange for Eddie Oatman. Gibson made an auspicious debut in Seattle on Wednesday when he checked in with two goals and an assist, and moved up to the with Foyston and Harris, both of Seattle, in the race for scoring honors. Harris and Foyston have played in two games, while Gibson has been in but one.

Gibson demonstrated beyond the question of a doubt that he is a finished hockey player. He has style, skates fast, stick-handled nicely and packs a wicked shot. He fits right into the Cougars' machine and there are no rough spots to be given attention to by the fans.

It is expected that Gibson will start at right wing to-night. The fans are anxious to see how the regulars of last year are hitting this winter, but naturally most of their attention will be taken up with Gibson, as few of them have had a chance to see him performing on the blades. So it's up to Jimmy to be out there to-night stepping like a dancing master and shooting goals as if he were behind a machine gun.

TRIBEY AND HART TO PLAY

The two new substitutes, Clem Trihey, the Montreal boy, and Harold Hart, the lad who came here from the broad prairies, will also be given a chance to claim the plaudits of the fans and if they come through as they did in Seattle they will be certain of a big hand.

Vancouver is coming over with all its big guns and is determined to lay low the attack of the Cougars. It is expected that Lloyd Cook will be back on the defence. He took the night off on Monday in order to allow Joe Matte, the "falling leaf," to do his stuff.

It should be a wonderful game for an opener with both teams going fast and giving their best.

The teams will be:

FOUGHT TO A DRAW

San Pedro, Cal., Nov. 16.—Ray Long and Sailor Billy Vincent, lightweights, fought a draw in the main event of the fight card staged at the chief petty officers' club last night.

Paddy McNulty, lightweight of the Los Angeles, won the decision over Jimmy Santos, of San Diego, in the semi-windup.

FARMER GRAPPLER WINS

Enid, Okla., Nov. 16.—Allan Austa, Kansas farmer, won two straight fights from George Vassell, Greek wrestler, here last night, the first in one hour and six minutes, and the second in twenty-six minutes. Both falls came from top holds.

NOT BREATHING RIGHT

Portland, Ore., Nov. 16.—Following an examination of Bobby Harper yesterday it was decided to postpone the match scheduled for to-night between Harper and Young Dandey. The examination showed that Harper was suffering with a badly congested nose, which interfered with his breathing. He had been ordered to bed. Whether he will be well enough to go on some time next week or another main event substituted will be decided by the Portland boxing commission later.

Girl Basketers In Crucial Game To-morrow Night

Fidelis and Christ Church Teams Will Play; Mets and Bays Seniors Meet

One of the crucial games in the Senior Girls' Sunday School Basketball League will be played to-morrow night at the Trades Hall, Broad Street.

The Fidelis girls face one of their hardest games on the schedule when they line up against the Christ Church five. The Cathedral girls made a great start last week when they defeated the Metropolitan, Florrie Gates and Kathy Wellburn playing in great form. Gracie Wellburn is one of the most reliable guards in the league, and can be depended upon to keep the opposing forwards well worked.

Isobel Crawford and Hilda Best are a pair of rapid scorers, and with two capable guards behind them will make the Fidelis attack very strong. These teams appear at present to be the strongest in the senior girls' division, and their meeting should provide a very high class exhibition of girls' basketball.

INTERMEDIATE GIRLS

St. Andrew's Intermediate Girls will line up against the Harmony five from First Presbyterian. Both teams are reported to be in good trim, and a closely contested game should result.

The Oakland Orioles will meet the Metropolitan Magpies in the Intermediate "B" boys' division.

METS MEETING BAYS

The Metropolitan Senior Men, a very fast squad, composed of such well-known stars as Cecil Hay, Stan Moore, Vernon Jones and Gus McIntyre, will meet the James Bay Methodists in a senior men's encounter, which will be interesting.

The nights will be as follows: 7 p.m., Intermediate Girls—St. Andrew's vs. Harmony. 7:45 p.m., Senior Girls—Fidelis vs. Christ Church. 8:30 p.m., Intermediate Boys—Oaklands vs. Metropolitan.

9:00 p.m., Senior Men—Metropolitans vs. James Bays.

Crescents Reach Vancouver To-day; Bill Cook on Way

Saskatoon, Sask., Nov. 16.—"Bill" Cook, right winger, left here yesterday to join the Saskatoon Crescents, who are en route to Vancouver, where they will train for the opening of the coming season. The departure of Cook brings the squad up to strength and Manager Lalonde will have twelve players from which to pick his lineup for the first game. The team is due to arrive in Vancouver to-day.

"THE FALLING LEAF"

Winnipeg, Nov. 16.—With the arrival of the balance of the Regina team here yesterday, accompanied by Manager Wes Champ, everything is in good shape for the professional hockey tournament to be started Saturday night, as far as the western teams are concerned.

Edmonton and Calgary are due to provide a good game on Saturday of almost mid-season calibre. They have both been training hard and earnestly. Duke Keats is very well satisfied with his boys, and Eddie Oatman says the game about the Calgary Bengals. Both teams have settled into team practice.

The Ottawa and Regina games on Monday and Saturday of next week will be under alternate rules, and Western Canada and National League rules being applied.

This looks about the lineup when the Calgary and Edmonton teams make their getaways.

Edmonton—Winkler, goal; Simpson and Trapp, defence; Keats, centre; Arbour, left wing and Morrison, right wing; substitutes, Sparrow, Brandon and Sheppard.

Calgary—Reid, goal; Gardiner and Duff, defence; Oatman, Oliver and Martin, forwards; substitutes, Morris, Benson, Anderson and Lewis.

The Regina Capitals will have to live up to the high standards they have been slow in reporting. Those that have been here since training began have been hustling all the time.

SENATORS ON THEIR WAY

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—The Ottawa hockey team left last night for Winnipeg, Monday nine players along for the tournament against Edmonton, Regina and Calgary. At the last minute it was decided that Captain Ed Gerard should pass up the trip to take care of the last month's completed arrangements for the trip, but his physician expressed fear yesterday that the trip might mean a serious setback. However, the Ottawas are fortunate, as they have two brilliant young defence men in Frank Clancy and Lionel Hitchman, besides Jack Darragh, who may also be thrown back on the defence. Frank Nighbor joined the party at Pembroke and will act as captain of the champions.

THE OTTAWA LINEUP

The Ottawa party consisted of: Manager Gordon, Trainer Polak, Clint Benedict, George Boucher, Frank Clancy, Lionel Hitchman, Frank Nighbor, Jack Darragh, Guy Deneny, Harry Broadbent and Harry Helman. The Ottawas are due at Winnipeg Saturday night and will endeavor to get in a couple of practice games before the opening of the season against Regina next Monday.

They are negotiating to secure Earl Campbell from the Edmonton team and he may report at Winnipeg in time for the second match against the Regina club. Campbell is an Ottawa product who used to play here.

MATCH POSTPONED

The second half of the return match for the Tilted Cup, which was to have been played between the Shaughnessy Golf Club of Vancouver and the Victoria Golf Club on Saturday of this week, has been again postponed. Shaughnessy wired yesterday to say that they found it impossible to get a team together to make the trip, and asking that the match be called off for the present.

SHADE LOSES DECISION

San Mateo, Cal., Nov. 16.—Tom King was awarded a decision over George Shade in a four-round boxing bout here last night.

English Golf Queens

JOYCE WETHERED

MRS. T. A. LODGE

After being defeated in the English women's open golf championship, rather unexpectedly Joyce Wethered made a fine comeback in a more recent event, the Victoria Golf Club, in the finals for the English women's native championship. Miss Wethered displayed all her old-time brilliancy and scored a decisive triumph.

Ruggers Determined To Secure Decision

James Bay and Oak Bay Fifteens Keen to Have Issue As to Supremacy Settled To-morrow; In Previous Game Neither Club Scored; Playing In Knock-out Series For Cowichan Trophy; One Senior and Two Intermediate Games Also on Card

Rugby fans will have four games to pick from to-morrow afternoon, and no doubt after one glance at the card the most of them will place their finger on the item which calls for the meeting of the James Bay Athletic Association and the Oak Bay Wanderers in the first round for the Cowichan Trophy.

This game will be staged at the Willows oval and Bill Ellis, who has the job of keeping the boys in control, will toss his hooter and announce the kick-off at 3 o'clock.

This is the second meeting of these clubs this year. Three weeks ago they battled to a furious scoreless draw, due to the splendid work of the forwards on both sides. On that occasion the James Bays were victorious, but the Cowichan team, emblematic of the championship, to-morrow they will be locked in an elimination game for the Cowichan Trophy, which really denotes the senior rugby championship of Vancouver Island. The James Bays are the present holders of the trophy, having won it last year, the first time it was up for competition.

AT FULL STRENGTH

The managers of the rival squads announced this morning that the teams would be on the field in good condition and at full strength. Neither sides wishes to take a chance of being short-handed or plug any gaps with substitutes, so will have all their regulars on the job. A loss for either club means elimination from further participation in the series.

The class of rugby should be very high as both clubs boast of good forwards and speedy backs. Unless the forwards chose to keep the ball at their feet there should be plenty of open work and some nice runs by the three.

The other game in the first round of the Cowichan Trophy series will be staged at Duncan to-morrow when the Cowichan and Nanaimo fifteens will meet to determine the Upper Island representative to meet the Victoria Wanderers.

NAVY MEETS ARMY

Another rugby game billed for Victoria to-morrow afternoon will be between the two service teams, the Navy and the Garrison. This will be the initial league appearance of the bluejackets, and they will turn out a very formidable fifteen with which they hope to hang the third defeat of the season around the Tommie's neck.

The Garrison, however, have profited by their reverses and will be a hard team for any of the other clubs in the Senior League to master from now on. There should be plenty of good rugby in this game, with the forwards showing to the best advantage.

Two Intermediate League games round that to-morrow's programme. The youngsters are playing splendid rugby, and as they have a record for clean, fast work they are getting splendid crowds.

Arrived Too Late

His almost unannounced reception was due, however, to his late arrival. All day many curious people had edged among each other waiting to catch a glimpse of the Rancocas colt at the station and at the track, but when darkness fell they left, promising themselves they would go out to the downs early Friday with hopes of witnessing the challenger in a work-out.

In Memoriam was not asked to extend himself in his workout by training Bob Gilmore yesterday. The track remains in good condition and is fast despite a slight rain that fell during a brief period early this morning.

Wards Intend to Make Vets Step Along To-morrow

Tail-Enders Will Have Full Team in Field For First Time This Season

There will be plenty of football to-morrow with the North Wards and the Veterans having the Royal Athletic Park at their disposal. This game is arousing considerable interest through the fact that the Wards announce that they will be at full strength for the first time this season. They have experienced some trouble in getting a team together in the past but since their reorganization meeting last Tuesday they have gathered new players into their fold.

The Wards announce that while to-morrow they will have a good team in the field they intend to have a still stronger eleven out within the next two weeks. They are securing for material and have several likely looking players ready to sign their contracts.

MOOSE OPPOSE LEADERS

The Wards, who have been weakened by the loss of their captain, Sid Sherratt, will put a team in the field to oppose the Moose to-morrow and this should be a close tussle.

The Sons of England will play the Navy in the third First Division game.

The Juniors have two games scheduled.

The draw is as follows: FIRST DIVISION

North Wards vs. Veterans, at Royal Athletic Park. Referee, Payne. Victoria Wests vs. Moose, at Beacon Hill Park. Referee, Robbins.

Sons of England vs. Navy, at Canteen grounds. Referee, Leck. Esquimalt draws a bye.

JUNIOR DIVISION

Oaklands vs. Victoria West, at Beacon Hill Park. Referee, Stokes. Esquimalt Thistles vs. High School, at Central Park. Referee, Ockwell.

All games to start at 2:30 p.m. Some of to-morrow's soccer teams will be as follows:

North Wards—McGregor, Taylor, Ransom, Kroeger, Bell, Woolsey, Melton, McKinnon, Prevost, Howden, Niles and Cummings.

Sons of England—Hetherington, Church and Tuckwell; Drybrough, Tupman and Harwood; J. Smith, Swan, Southern, Green and Shanks. Reserves, Hill and Keir. Players are asked to go direct to Canteen grounds.

Victoria Wests—Shandley, Baker and Stillwell; Popham, Thomas and McFayre; McFayre, McFayre, Youson, Muir and Waddington. Moose—Merrix and Bray; Essler, Moulton and Moulton; Woods, Ferris, Cumming, Dunn and Allan; reserves, Davidson, Hole and Dunderdale.

Players to meet at Metropolitan room 2 p.m. prompt.

TAKING TRIP HOME

Phil Taylor, the brilliant pro of the Victoria Golf Club, is busy packing his trunks and grips to-day in preparation for his departure to-morrow afternoon for England. Phil will be accompanied by Mrs. Taylor and their young son. Phil has not been home since he came out three years ago to take over the Oak Bay Links.

Zev Finds Public Fickle As No One Came To Say Hello

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 16.—After an absence of six months, Zev, winner of the Kentucky Derby, returned to Churchill Downs late yesterday. Last night he was quartered on the same grounds with In Memoriam, his opponent in another great turf match scheduled for Churchill Downs Saturday.

Zev's previous visit was not marked by anything like interest. He came a colt badly beaten in the Preakness stakes at Pimlico. A few hours after the $50,000 victory he left for the east hailed as the greatest colt of his age in the United States. Since then he has won many laurels, national and international. His winnings total within a few thousand dollars of the greatest amount ever accumulated by any horse.

The Sinclair colt's reputation is international, yet as if by repetition he played to-night at eight o'clock, between Colling (scr.) and Small (o. 100). The draw for the semi-finals will be made to-night following the games.

Famous Colt Gets Cold Reception in Kentucky; Race In Memoriam To-morrow

Phil Taylor

In the second round of the Two Jack's billiard handicap Dyke (r. 50) defeated Medley (r. 25) by 101 points last night in the Two Jack's Billiard Parlors.

What promises to be one of the best games of the tournament will be played to-night at eight o'clock, between Colling (scr.) and Small (o. 100). The draw for the semi-finals will be made to-night following the games.

TWO JACK'S BILLIARDS

BETTER LUCK NEARLY CRACKS ANCIENT MARK

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—Better Luck, the North Star III colt, can away from the field in a race over a future course, which is 170 feet short of three-quarters of a mile at the Tanforan track here yesterday, beating Skeel, the outstanding favorite, for the California Derby next Saturday, by five or six lengths. In time recorded was 1:08 2-5.

The world's best record is 1:05 flat, credited to Kingston, of Sheepshed Bay, in 1891, but this mark always has been in controversy because Kingston was started with a flag.

Two Appeals Will Be Made From Sentences

Victoria Wests Will Take Sid Sherratt's Case Before Meeting of B.C.F.A. This Week-End and Wednesday Football League Intends to Appeal Sentences Handed Out to Its Officials; Contend Unfair Treatment

When the British Columbia Football Association meets here over the week-end it will have two appeals to deal with. Both these arise out of the action taken by the Lower Island Football Association at its meeting on Wednesday evening when it handed out a string of suspensions.

The Wednesday Football League intends to appeal the heavy suspensions handed out to President Cull and Secretary Thomas for insubordination.

The Victoria Wests will appeal the sentence imposed upon their captain, Sid Sherratt, for talking back to the referee.

The Wests contend that Sherratt was not entitled to such punishment. He has been playing football for years and has always played cleanly, the Wests claim. Last night they felt so keenly about the treatment accorded their skipper that they were in two minds as to whether or not they would field a team to-morrow.

In their appeal the Wests will criticize Referee Leck. They contend that as he gave Sherratt thirty seconds to leave the field he did not check the time and that Sid's offensive was not worse than that of the Esquimalt linesman, who also told the referee to "keep his eyes open." The linesman was censured by the association.

The Wests will go further and attempt to prove that in ordering the game replayed the association did not back up the referee's action.

ARE GREATLY UPSET

The appeal of the Wednesday League, however, is expected to cause the greatest furor. The league officials and all the clubs are reported to stand united on the issue, and feel keenly that a year's suspension should be handed out to President Cull, who organized the league three years ago, and has been the guiding light ever since. Secretary Thomas has also worked faithfully since the inception of the league.

That the whole thing resolve itself into a direct issue between the Victoria and District Football League and the Wednesday League is quite evident.

The Wednesday Leagueurs state that they had no desire to run foul of the senior organization, but that the wires were crossed in an unexpected manner.

ALL OVER HOLIDAY GAME

It appears that the Victoria and District League passed a motion asking that the Wednesday League postpone its games on Thanksgiving Day in view of the inter-city game. Secretary Dowds forgot to write the letter, and the Wednesday Leagueurs went ahead with their preparations for their games. The Victoria and District League has agreed to play both its advertised games on the morning provided they could use the Royal Athletic Park for their stellar attraction between the Garrison and Teamsters.

This was refused on the grounds that the Victoria and District League wished to mark off the field and set it ready for the Victoria-Vancouver match. The Wednesday Leagueurs contend that they offered to play their game in the morning and that the grounds were remarked and roped off, but still the others refused. Consequently the Wednesday Leagueurs went ahead with their games, scheduling one for the afternoon, which clashed with the inter-city game.

CAN'T SEE THE REASON

The Wednesday Leagueurs do not think that the Lower Island Football Association decision should be accepted as final because they have no representation on that body, whereas the Victoria and District League has. Their future cannot see why the Victoria and District League has any right to demand that games in another league be postponed. Such a request should come from the Lower Island Football League, they say.

What the outcome of the appeals will be is a question, but there is no doubt but that the session here will be a very interesting one.

Michigan and Wisconsin go to Court For Ownership of Hurley

Ironwood, Mich., Nov. 15.—On the arm of the Attorney-General of Michigan the Wisconsin, Wis. consin, notorious in its past, has been ushered before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Born to notoriety in the days of the north country's "run rebellion," Hurley nevertheless is desired by Michigan.

Hurley is on the small strip of land that Michigan claims as its own, despite the fact that the land sits in Iron and Vilas counties, has been in Wisconsin territory since 1836.

Michigan's contention, as presented to the Supreme Court in a bill of complaint, is that the boundary between Michigan and Wisconsin was established originally as a line through the middle of the main channel of the Montpelier River. Later it was discovered that the original survey was incorrect; that the river branches were such that the correct boundary is in the west branch of the river; Wisconsin, the east branch.

IRON AND COAL

The territorial acquisition of the two results to Michigan if the state's contentions are recognized is that the coal and iron fields, which, of course, besides timber, are the chief resources of the territory, will be divided between the two states.

boundary is in the west branch of the river; Wisconsin, the east branch.

Wisconsin counties several islands in the Menominee River and Washington Island in Green Bay. Valuable deposits of iron and coal, however, make the disputed terrain a tempting one for the two commonwealths to wrangle over.

Michigan's bill of complaint to the U. S. supreme court charges that Wisconsin has refused to settle amicably the boundary dispute. Wisconsin is required to file an answer by January 1.

The Michigan-Wisconsin dispute is of long standing. Michigan officials have explained the present court action is not as much directed to the extension of the territorial limits as to the long-standing, one-way invasion of Michigan territory by Wisconsin or other, of the boundary argument.

The Sandman Story For To-night

CONCEITED TIMOTHY MOUSE

Timothy Mouse lived under the attic stairs and many a dainty mouse had to carry from the pantry to his home. He had plenty to eat, a nice place to sleep, and if he had not been so conceited he might have been living there yet. But he does not live under the attic stairs now, and I will tell you why.

Timothy Mouse and his brothers and his father, and his mother all lived there in comfort and mouse-luxury until one day Timothy ran into the kitchen when the cook was getting dinner.

Timothy was brave as well as bold. He ran right over the cook's foot. My, how she jumped and screamed and how the mouse family ran to the aid of the kitchen when the cook was getting dinner.

Then the maid screamed, and out of the room they ran. "Everybody is afraid of me," thought Timothy, and back he ran to tell his family what a brave fellow he was. "If you do not believe me, watch."

His father and his mother and all of his brothers ran to a crack in the wall of the kitchen and watched. Pretty soon back came the cook and went on cooking the dinner. Out ran Timothy Mouse and got up on a chair. Then he squeaked as if to say "boo!" and off ran the cook and off ran the maid, dropping some plates in her fright.

"See," said Timothy, "I am the boss of this place! I can drive every one away. Nobody can have their dinner unless I am willing."

But alas for Timothy and his conceited thoughts. For the next day when he visited the kitchen—he drove the cook away, but sitting by the stove he saw a creature with two big green eyes, and when he tried to frighten her she promptly chased him.

Around and around the room they went into a corner she drove Timothy, who no longer felt bold. He could have crawled through the smallest crack if only he could have found one, but there wasn't any near enough.

But there was a chair and on it an apron, and it touched the floor. And quick as a wink Timothy Mouse ran up, and then he jumped from the top of the chair straight over the head of puss.

It took only a second to reach the secret door to his home, and he was safe. He knew that no longer was he the boss of the kitchen and it would not be safe for him to fight it out with Puss.

"This is not as fine a place as I should live in," Timothy explained to his family. "I think we had better move at once. There isn't enough cheese in the pantry to keep me plump and strong."

And so that night, when the house was still and Puss in the kitchen was watching every corner with big eyes, Timothy and his family crept down into the cellar and out of the house to another home.

Perhaps he got over being so conceited, but if he didn't I should not be surprised if Timothy Mouse did not live anywhere by this time.

THE STEP ON THE STAIR

BY ANNA KATHARINE GREEN

Author of "The Leavenworth Case," "The Flitgee Ball," "The Mystery of the Hasty Arrow," Etc.

But fortune favored me later and in a way I was far from expecting. Having some difficulty in finding my partner for the coming dance, I strolled in to one of the smaller rooms leading, as I knew, to a certain favorite note in the conservatory. On the wall at my left was a mirror and I saw the face of a young man looking at me. There was no mistaking his look, the grasp of his hand, the trembling of his whole body; and as I muttered to myself, "This is a farewell," my heart stood still in my breast, and my mind lost itself for the instant in infinite confusion.

For the lady was not Orpha, but a tall, superbly beautiful young woman, whose countenance was a mirror of his in its tenderness and desolation. Was this the cause of Uncle's sudden reversal of opinion as to the desirability of a union between the two cousins? Had some unexpected discovery of the state of Orpha's feelings, towards another woman, wrought such a change in his own that he could ask me, whether I could love his daughter, warmly enough to marry her? If so, I could easily understand the passion with which he had watched the effect of this question upon the only other man whom his pride-of-blood would allow him to consider as the heir of his hard-gotten fortune.

All this was plain enough to me now, but what drove me backward from that mirror and into a "spot" where I could retain some hold upon myself was the certainty which these conclusions brought of the end of my hopes.

But the scene of which I had just been the inadvertent witness was one of renunciation. Edgar had yielded to his uncle's exactions and if I were not mistaken in him as was not, I could not but be glad to see him released from the burden which he had borne for so long. It was a relief to me, and I felt that I should be glad to see him released from the burden which he had borne for so long.

How was I to bear it knowing what I did and loving her as I did? How were any of us to endure a situation which left a sting in every heart? It was for Orpha only to dance on the floor of the conservatory, and to hear her laugh and see her joy. Might never hear or see anything if we were all true to her and conscientiously masked our unhappiness and despair as Edgar would play his part—would have to with Uncle's eye upon him; and Uncle himself—this inner mention of his name brought me up standing. I owed a duty to that uncle. He had entrusted me with a message. The time to deliver it had come. Orpha must be told and at once that her father wished to see her in his room upstairs. For what purpose, he had not said nor was it for me to conjecture. All that I had to do was bered; she had found her father ill. That was certainly enough to account for the secret care battling with her joy. And so all was clear again to my mind. But not to my heart. For by the way Edgar received her and the quiet manner in which they interchanged a few words I saw that they understood each other. That was what disturbed me and gave to my hopes their final blow. They understood each other.

Whenever I think of the next half hour it is with astonishment that I can remember so little of it. I probably spoke and answered questions and conducted myself on the whole as a gentleman is expected to do on a festive occasion. But I have no memory of it—none whatever. When I came to myself, the supper was half over and the merriment, to which I had probably added my full quota, at its height. With quick glances here and there I took in the whole situation, and from that moment on was quite conscious of how frequently my attention wandered from my ingenuous little partner to where Orpha sat with Edgar, lovely as youth and happiness could make her, but with never a look for me, much as I longed for it.

That he should fail to see and appreciate this loveliness, was no longer a matter of surprise to me who had seen him under the complete domination of his secret passion for Miss Colfax. But the fear that others might note it and wonder, was strong within me. For while he offered her no slight, his glances like mine would seek the face of the woman he loved, who to my amazement occupied the seat just to the left of the piano.

"Papa, I don't understand," she murmured. "He is never ill." Then suddenly, "Where is Edgar?" The question as she uttered it struck me keenly. However I managed to reply in a purposely careless tone.

"In the library, I think, where they are practicing some new steps. Shall I go and see?" I asked. She shook her head as before, and with a strange wavering smile I found it hard to interpret, sped lightly upward.

A few minutes later I had located my missing partner and was dancing with seeming gaiety; but almost lost my step as Edgar brushed by me with a girl whom I had not seen before on his arm. He was as pale as a man well could be who was not ill and though his lips were a forced smile the girl was doing all the talking.

What was in the air? What would the next half hour bring to him—to all of us? I tried to do my duty by my partner, but it was not easy and I hardly think she carried away a very favorable impression of me. When released, I sought to find myself behind a wall of flowering shrubs as near the foot of the stairs as possible. Much as I could retain some hold upon myself, as I could catch a glimpse of Orpha's face as she rejoined her guests, some of my doubts might be confirmed or, as I secretly hoped, eliminated.

That Edgar had the same idea was soon apparent; for the first figure I saw approaching the stairs was his, and while he did not get up, he took his stand where he would be sure to see her the moment she became visible in the gallery.

There was, however, a reason for this, aside from any personal anxiety he may have had. Two, two, as acting host and hostess, were to lead the procession to the copper-room. Its I was to take in a Miss Barton and while I kept this young lady in sight, I remained where I was, watching Edgar and those around him for the coming of that fairy figure whose aspect might reveal my future fate. Nothing could be so important as this hoped-for freeing of my mind from its heavy doubts.

Fortunately I had not long to wait. She presently appeared, and with my first view of her face, doubt became certainty in my bewildered mind. For she came with a joyful rush, and there was but one thing which could so wing her feet and give such breeziness to her every movement. The desire of her heart was still hers. Nothing that her father had said had robbed her of that. Then I, Edgar advanced, I perceived that her feelings were complex and quite evenly balanced between opposite emotions. Happiness lay before her, but so did trouble, and I could not feel at ease until I knew just what this trouble was. Then I remembered.

NEWSPAPER SCRAP TO COME BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE

Freight Rates Fight Accounts to be Examined to See What Happened

Public accounts committee of the Legislature got into action at the Parliament Buildings yesterday when Mr. Bowser asked for the files from the Attorney-General's Department in connection with the freight rates fight. Mr. Bowser and Mr. Pooley said they wanted to investigate disbursements made by G. G. McGeer, K.C., which were reported to the House by Premier Oliver as totaling $23,445.44 in connection with the fight made at Ottawa.

Afterwards Mr. Bowser explained to newspaper reporters that it is the intention to investigate charges made by one newspaper in Vancouver against another that its publicity campaign throughout Canada for equalization of western freight rates had been financed by Government money through the disbursements and advances made by Mr. McGeer. All the files in the Attorney-General's Department having to do with these disbursements will be produced before the committee next Monday, when the next session is scheduled. Clerks in the Attorney-General's Department were given personal instructions to this effect by the committee.

Major D. B. Martin, commissioner of industries, was before the committee and ordered to prepare statements giving complete details of all Government loans to various enterprises and the state these loans are now in.

Col. R. D. Davies, chairman of the Land Settlement Board, was notified to appear before the committee next week to be examined on expenditures at Sumas.

MINISTERS ENDORSE HOSPITAL APPEAL

Ready For House to House Canvass Next Week

For the house to house canvass of the committee which will on Monday commence collecting for the Jubilee Hospital throughout the city, the city has been divided into thirteen districts: Nos. 1 to 13, James Bay, Fairfield, Rockland, Oak Bay, Uplands, Spring Ridge, Central, Folville, Brook Bay, Gorge, Esquimalt, Victoria West and business section.

The chairman of the canvassing committee will be M. W. Graham, chairman; Mrs. L. E. Hardie, Capt. A. M. Aitken, A. E. Brindley, J. W. Hudson, F. M. McGregor, H. C. Hall, Frank Waring, Col. Lorne Ross, Alex. Feden, P. R. Fleming, H. R. Savage and Kenneth Ferguson.

A publicity committee has been appointed composed of Frank Giolma, chairman, H. M. Diggon, and G. W. Newton.

ENDORSE APPEAL

At the last meeting of the Victoria Ministerial Association the following resolution was passed on the hospital campaign:

"We, the members of this association having heard the reports of our representatives to the meetings held for the purpose of organizing the campaign to raise $125,000 for the completion of the new wing to the Jubilee Hospital, hereby go on record as heartily endorsing the campaign, and that we pledge our loyal support as individuals and ministers, and urge all our people to back the campaign to their utmost."

The Executive of the Association recommends that in accordance with a request from the Chairman of the Campaign Committee, every minister in the city announce from his respective pulpits on November 18 and 25, that this campaign is going on, and further, that where possible this be done at both morning and evening services in order that he may enlist sympathetic co-operation and thus make the appeal for funds easier for canvassers. In making the announcements it is entirely in the discretion of the minister whether an appeal for funds be included, so long as the best interests of the campaign is kept in mind with a view to reaching the desired goal as speedily as possible.

The ministers of this city resent the action of the convention of the British Columbia School Trustees Association in refusing to assist in removing the disability of ministers of religion from acting as school trustees, or teachers.

They have passed a lengthy resolution which sets out there is "no body of citizens in the country better qualified to bring an enlightened judgment and a wide experience of educational problems to bear upon the education of the young." It declares the situation "unjust and undemocratic" and protests "most strongly against the action of the members of the convention in going out of their way to pass judgment upon a matter which lies wholly outside of their province as trustees, in denying others the rights which they themselves exercise as citizens."

CANADIAN LEGION AUXILIARY BUSY

The women's auxiliary to the Canadian Legion held its semi-monthly meeting at the clubrooms on Tuesday night, with Mrs. H. P. Thorpe, president, in the chair. The treasurer, Miss Skeats, rendered the financial report for the month ending October, which showed the finances of the auxiliary in excellent condition. Mrs. Nelson, of the ways and means committee, stated that the card games which are being carried on every Friday evening at the legion's rooms were being well attended and that there had been an increased patronage since the beginning of the winter.

Mrs. Chambers, of the sick committee, reported upon her visits to ex-service patients in the city hospital and at their homes in co-operation with the armistice period committee.

The social convener, Mrs. Macnicol, stated that a concert had been given in the McBride Ward during the last week in November. A letter from the ex-service patients at Tranquille was read to the meeting and it was decided to purchase a quantity of gramophone records and games, to be forwarded to that institution as early as possible. A letter of sympathy will be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Milliken, who lost their eldest girl recently by death. It was decided to hold a book social in the reading room of the club on Wednesday evening, Nov. 21, at 7.30 o'clock. As this is the meeting night of the Canadian Legion, all members attending will be asked to bring with them a book as a donation to the legion's library. An appeal is made to friends of the association to donate books to the club. A telephone call to 5986 will bring a messenger to the house of anyone willing to give books.

Refreshments will be served by the members of the auxiliary during the book social. Mesdames Knowles and Nelson served tea.
